

GLORIA FAYE SELLERS
DECEMBER 14, 1927—JUNE 27, 2009

Gloria was the loving wife of the late Ralph Sellers, who was involved with Babe Ruth League for many years. Ralph served as a League President, District Director, State Director and on the National Committee. It was during that time that Gloria also fell in love with the Babe Ruth program and the youth it serviced. In fact, when Ralph passed away, Gloria had the Babe Ruth emblem engraved on his headstone.

The Sellers family was also responsible for bringing the Babe Ruth World Series to Abbeville in the mid-70's. In recognition of their work for youth, the oldest Babe Ruth field in Comeaux Park in Abbeville was named Ralph Sellers Field. This complex has become one of the finest and most beautiful baseball/softball facilities in the South. Sellers Field has played host to several Babe Ruth District, State and Regional Tournaments, as well as many Babe Ruth World Series.

If ever there was a “First Lady” of the Louisiana Babe Ruth program, it was Gloria Sellers.

Besides her love for her family and Babe Ruth League, Gloria had a passion for painting and writing.
