In 2005, they moved the business to Grangeville and, in 2007, he and Kim started a second business, Aqua Jet.

Rick was an avid Grangeville Bulldogs fan, who didn’t miss a single football or baseball game for either of his sons. He was heavily involved in the Grangeville Booster Club, helping cut, split and deliver loads of firewood, among other things.

The outdoors is where Rick went to relax and recharge. He enjoyed hunting, fishing, snowmobiling and jet boating.
