

Rhonda Fleming

Rhonda Fleming

Film and television actress Rhonda Fleming served as Treasurer of the Beverly Hills, California Babe Ruth League in 1954 and 1955.

- Rhonda (born Marilyn Louis in Hollywood, California) appeared in over 40 films in the 1940s and 1950s, including Spellbound and The Spiral Staircase.

- While she was always a competent actress, Fleming was more renowned for her exquisite beauty, and the camera absolutely loved her.

She was nicknamed the “Queen of Technicolor” because her fair complexion and flaming red hair photographed exceptionally well in Technicolor.
